

Input Context

- [1]: ① Hawaii consists of 137 volcanic islands that comprise almost the entire Hawaiian archipelago. The eight main islands, from northwest to southeast, are Ni'ihau ②, Kaua'i, O'ahu, Moloka'i, Lāna'i, Kahoolawe, Maui, and Hawai'i, after which the state is named.
- [2]: ① Of the 50 U.S. states, Hawaii is the eighth-smallest in land area and the 11th-least populous, but with 1.4 million residents, it ranks 13th in population density. Two-thirds of Hawaii residents live on O'ahu, home to the state's capital and largest city, Honolulu.
- [3]: Historically dominated by a plantation economy, Hawaii remains a major agricultural exporter due to its fertile soil and uniquely tropical climate in the U.S. its economy has gradually diversified since the mid-20th century, with tourism and military defense becoming the two largest sectors. ①

Query

What is the Hawaii Island hosting most of the state residents?

Generated Answer (Contextual)

Based on the information provided, ① the Hawaii island is hosting the majority of the state residents. Two-thirds of Hawaii residents live on O'ahu, which is the largest and most populous island in the state. The other three islands (Ni' ② ihau, Kaua'i, and Lāna'i) together make up the remaining 23% of Hawaii's population.

Generated Answer (No Context)

The island in the Hawaii archipelago that hosts most of the state residents is the island of O'ahu. O'ahu is the largest and most populous island in the Hawaiian Islands, [...] Other major islands in the state include Maui, Kauai, and the Big Island (also known as Hawaii Island).